DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to the applicant's amendment dated 12/8/2003

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 2-3 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Berkovitz.

Berkovitz in Figs. 4-6 disclose an apparatus and method of processing at least one channel input signal comprising the steps of: receiving the input signal; modifying the input signal to produce a second signal; variably controlling the input (claims 2-3) or the second signal (claims 6-7); and mixing the variably controlled input signal or the variable controlled second signal to produce variably controllable third, fourth, and fifth channel output signal. The signal controlled by the variable controller 27 can be read as either the variable controlled input signal or the variable controlled second signal.

4. Claims 4-5 are allowed over prior art of record.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed in the amendment regarding claims 2-3 and 5-6 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant mainly argues the input signal for mixing of Berkovitz is not the original input signal as recited in the claims. The examiner disagrees. Claims 2-3 and 6-7 do not called for the input signal being directly connected to the mixer(s) for generating the three output signals as argued. The filtered (i.e., modified) input signal is part of the input signal and can be broadly read as an input signal. Therefore, claims 2-3 and 6-7 are still met by each of Figs. 4-6 of Berkovitz.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See M.P.E.P. § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a).
